

PW Club Development

Ideas for increasing & developing adult participation

The foundations of these ideas...

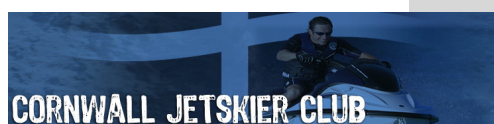

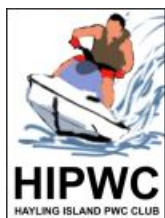

Foreword:

The information and ideas gathered over the next few pages have been as a result of participation in the set up of such activities, previous experiences, assistance/information from PW clubs and ideas gathered from forums and other websites. All the ideas presented in these documents have been carried out in one form or another and have achieved their aims.

We hope that you find them useful and practical options to aid you in the development of your PW club.

To make sure these documents stay up to date, we would appreciate it if you have any success stories or new ideas that you email them to us at candice@pwpuke.org

Wishing you all the best, Candice Abbott – PWP Director.
